Summary

A motivated and skilled individual, who specialises in Front End Development for the web. Able to work on own initiative or as part of a large team. Looking to use my knowledge and expertise of the web to develop my career, work on a wider variety of projects and broaden my experience within the industry.

Experience

Front End Developer, Catch Group; Melbourne, Victoria, Australia - September 2016 - Present

Currently working at Catch Group, I am responsible for working on the front end of websites for Catch, Scoopon Shopping, Grocery Run, Mumgo and Pumpkin Patch.

Front End Developer, The Hut Group; Northwich, Cheshire, UK - August 2013 - July 2015

While at The Hut Group, I was responsible for working on the front end of a bespoke in-house ecommerce platform - which attracts more than 300 million shoppers a year from around the world. Notable sites include: MyProtein, Zavvi, LookFantastic, Nintendo Official UK Store, Elizabeth Arden and more.

In my time there, I built and worked on a number of multilingual ecommerce sites (French, Italian, German, Spanish, Finnish, Greek etc), introduced an improved development workflow for the front end team (using tools such as Grunt, Gulp and their associated packages), worked with a small team to implement an automated end-to-end cross-browser regression testing solution (using Selenium WebDriver) and liaised closely with Technical Leads to greatly improve overall front end build time and quality.

Web Designer, The Realbuzz Group Ltd; Chester, Cheshire, UK - November 2010 - August 2013

During my time at The Realbuzz Group, I was responsible for working alongside partners such as the Virgin London Marathon, BMW Berlin Marathon, adidas Silverstone Half Marathon, City2Surf and many more. While working there, I also designed and built online media for well known charities such as Oxfam, Unicef, Cancer Research UK and worked front end on various in-house niche social networking projects.

Head Designer, Creative Flavour; Preston, Lancashire, UK - September 2008 - June 2009

Working within a small registered company, as part of the Young Enterprise business scheme at university, our main focus was to produce and sell small websites, print media, graphic design and other related services. My role within the company was to design and build small websites, produce varying forms of print media and oversee a small group designers to ensure the highest quality of work was being produced for clients.

Lifeguard & Swim Instructor, Camp Greylock; Becket, Massachusetts, USA - May 2007 - August 2011

Working as a large team, in one of the oldest and highly sought after all-boys sports camps in the United States of America. My primary job was to be caretaker of fourth grade boys, whilst teaching swimming, lifeguarding and assisting the Head of Department in the running of a busy waterfront.

Other responsibilities include; Head OD - which involved controlling staff sign in between curfew times, Olympic Captain - which entrusted me with a division of around 60 kids for 3 days, Olympic Committee Member - which entailed helping with the organisation, planning and running of the event and Co-Head of Chinese Family Camp - which required the organisation of a 20-30 person workforce and maintaining the welfare of the 200-300 attendees for a 7 day stay.
